RAS AL KHOR WILDLIFE SANTCTUARY

The Dubai Creek, at Ras Al Khor, is a unique wetland of unspoilt nature. Located just as the name in Arabic suggests - at the Cape of the Creek, it is among the few urban protected areas of the world. Re-imagining Luxury

Living Well is at the heart of our philosophy and luxury is just the minimum requirement. Wealth is about so much more than what is tangible. Today, in a world, that is more toxic and polluted, chaotic and fragmented, traditional luxury is no longer enough.

When I have it all, I am seeking new aspirations such as breathing the finest air, eating super foods, using the most untouched water. I want to refocus on my family, recharge with sunshine, drink the purest water while being surrounded with absolute comfort and refinement in a beautiful surrounding.

True wealth is no longer limited to material pursuits. A person's wealth is not measured by their belongings but by the richness and quality of the experiences their wealth can provide. Where, in the past, we sought an excess of material belongings, what we seek today instead is to live life to the fullest, to live it abundantly. And that abundance, whether from a comfort or wellbeing perspective, is to be found in Keturah.
